

Table 1. Planned Funding by Top 25 Recipient Organizations ($, mil), FY2008.

Recipient	Amount Received	Countries	Institution Type	Headquarters
Partnership for Supply Chain Management	310.23	15	Non-profit	Arlington, VA
Family Health International	203.90	20	Non-profit	Durham, NC
US CDC	164.71	30	USG	Atlanta, GA
Catholic Relief Services	159.65	12	Non-profit	Baltimore, MD
Elizabeth Glaser Pediatric AIDS Foundation	112.76	11	Non-profit	Washington, DC
USAID	97.62	31	USG	Washington, DC
Columbia University Mailman School of Public Health	81.26	5	Academic	New York, NY
Management Sciences for Health	79.47	13	Non-profit	Cambridge, MA
Harvard University School of Public Health	78.06	3	Academic	Boston, MA
Population Services International	72.10	20	Non-profit	Washington, DC
Columbia University	58.49	4	Academic	New York, NY
University of Maryland	58.33	1	Academic	College Park, MD
John Snow, Inc.	58.07	18	For-profit	Boston, MA
University of Washington	52.79	12	Academic	Seattle, WA
Pact, Inc.	50.45	14	Non-profit	Washington, DC
JHPIEGO	48.81	10	Non-profit	Baltimore, MD
Academy for Educational Development	47.05	15	Non-profit	Washington, DC
Department of State Regional Procurement Support Office/Frankfurt	38.96	7	USG	Washington, DC
Kenya Medical Research Institute	38.82	2	Non-profit	Nairobi, Kenya
IntraHealth International, Inc.	38.67	11	Non-profit	Chapel Hill, NC
Right To Care, South Africa	37.70	1	Non-profit	Johannesburg, South Africa
Johns Hopkins University Center for Communication Programs	36.79	7	Academic	Baltimore, MD
Deloitte Consulting Limited	35.63	2	For-profit	New York, NY
Pathfinder International	33.20	6	Non-profit	Watertown, MA
Foundation for Professional Development	29.32	1	Non-profit	Pretoria, South Africa

Notes: In this dataset there were 31 country recipients and 1 'regional' recipient (i.e. Caribbean); in addition, USG agencies are operating in other countries where funding is channeled regionally or through direct appropriations and hence not recorded by OGAC. Partnership for Supply Chain Management is a coordinating organization for 13 member organizations and companies Academy for Educational Development is now dissolved and acquired by FHI 360. JHPIEGO is an affiliate of Johns Hopkins University. In addition, $40.8 million was provided to an unspecified organization(s) in the Caribbean Region.